To Whom It May Concern,

My company, Sharing the Bread, Inc., is a seventeen store franchisee of Jersey Mike's Subs in southeast Michigan. We began using the services of Metro Food Safety and Darlene Cairns in 2015 to conduct Food Safety certifications as part of our Management Training Program. Prior to this we had used a self-study program and an in-house test proctor. This method yielded less than desirable results as there was no direct instruction from a qualified educator. Darlene and Metro Food Safety were a great alternative for us. The approach taken by Metro creates an environment for success with pre-study materials, in class instruction, and immediate test results. Since we began using Darlene's company our success rate has increased to almost 100% passing. Our team returns from the classes with knowledge that they retain. As a busy business owner I appreciate the time Darlene and Metro Food Safety save me by handling the food safety training for me. I would highly recommend Metro Food Safety to anyone in need of quality education in food safety.
